

View this email in your browser

February 2018

News from IPVS

Some news from IPVS

Dear IPVS members,

First I would like to thank you, our dear members, for your long-term commitment to our society. We are very grateful for your membership and dedication to the IPVS and wish you all the very best for 2018!

Before we closed the 2017 chapter, I had the chance to represent IPVS In Rwanda at the AORTIC Conference. I also met with the Scale-Up team from PATH in Guatemala.

For the new year, IPVS is off to a great start as the International HPV Awareness Day on March 4th is under intense preparation. The Advocacy and Campaign committee is currently working very hard to coordinate activities to make this day a success. You will soon receive further updates on this exciting project.

The PV community also benefited from an enriching month of January, designated as the national Cervical Cancer Awareness month in the US. We have listed interesting

We are also working on the preparation of our forthcoming International Conference IPVC2018 to be held in Sydney on 2-6 October 2018. This conference theme is 'Towards Global Control of HPV Disease' and through workshops, invited lectures, and oral and poster sessions presenting the latest research results, the conference will cover papillomavirus (PV)-related topics from basic science to global health impact. Make sure to visit the congress website: www.ipvc2018.org and to submit your abstract by the deadline set to April 17th 2018.

The new year is also the perfect time to renew your membership and continue to enjoy your membership benefits such as

- Discounted IPV Conference registration rate including for the IPV Conference in Sydney, Australia on 2-6 October 2018
- Scholarship opportunities
- Participation in IPVS governance and elections
- Eligibility to apply for IPVS board and officer positions
- Participation in IPVS committee activities and projects
- IPVS-sponsored regional meetings
- Newsletters and updates in the field
- Provision of membership certificate
- Discounted publication rate in official open-access journal of IPVS: Papillomavirus Research (PVR Journal)
- Access to IPVS members directory
- Free postings on the IPVS job board

We are looking forward for this new year together and we are looking forward to seeing you again in October in Sydney!

With warm regards,

Silvia de Sanjosé

IPVS President

January was National Cervical Health Awareness Month in the United States. Many activities took place around the country. We listed materials available online that provide more information.

+ Read the article here

IPVS is offering exclusive benefits to IPVS members to publish in the PVR Journal: The official Journal of the International Papillomavirus Society!

+ Read more here!

Silvia de Sanjosé, IPVS President, met with the Scale-Up project team from PATH. The Project seeks to reduce cervical cancer incidence through improved and expanded screening using HPV testing.

+ Read the article here

Read the last update on the upcoming IPVC 2018 in Sydney, 2-6 October 2018: a great opportunity for you to share your latest research and discoveries with colleagues and peers on a truly international stage.

+ Join us in Sydney!

AORTIC's 11th International Conference on Cancer in Africa (AORTIC 2017) took place from the 7th to 10th of November 2017 at the Kigali Convention Centre in Rwanda.

+ Read the article here

Visit our website: www.ipvsoc.org

Copyright © 2018 International Papillomavirus Society, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list