

View this email in your browser

Newsletter March 2020

News from IPVS

Dear Colleagues and Members,

On behalf of the IPVS I wish you, your families and colleagues all the best at this very difficult and complex time, I hope you all remain healthy and want to update you on our response as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to unfold.

The COVID pandemic meant that IPVC 33 Barcelona could not take place at the designated date. We took the decision to postpone the meeting for 4 months Monday 20 – Friday 24 July 2020 the only date available from the Congress Centre and we are now working under the expectation that the Catalonia authorities' ban on meetings and European travel restrictions will have been lifted by then. More info... We are hoping for an even better meeting on July 20-24, Barcelona and we ask for your support of the IPVS mission at this critical moment.

In the midst of the evolution of the COVID-19 pandemic, it is the opinion of IPVS that now is time for the focus to be on our obligations as medical and scientific professionals to our duty of care. We are very proud and extremely thankful for the continued efforts of our colleagues and members on the ground in their respective countries. It is the health professionals who are ensuring that we stand the greatest

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

We wish to remind you that the IPVS Board elections are open until Saturday, March 28. Join the society or renew your membership: your help is essential for the HPV community.

join / renew your membership

We very much appreciate your work and we value your support.

Sincerely Yours,

Margaret Stanley

Copyright © 2020 International Papillomavirus Society, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list